103. The Poetry of Maria Nivea Zagarella, introduction and translation by Gaetano Cipolla.

This is volume XVI of the series “Pueti d’Arba Sicula/Poets of Arba Sicula” whose goal is to present the best poetry written in Sicilian. Zagarella’s poetry is a wonderful addition to the series.

104. Not For Self, A Sicilian Life and Death in Marion, by Joseph Cacibauda.

This is the story of Gaetano Jake Valenti, a peasant from Sicily who came to America and ran afoul of the Ku Klux Clan, bootleggers and dishonest officials and was eventually murdered. This is an engrossing tale painstakingly researched from official documents and archives.

105. The Divine Kiss/Lu baciu divinu/Il bacio divino, by Carolyn Mary Kleefeld.

This is a trilingual edition of poems by Carolyn Kleefeld translated into Sicilian by Marco Scalabrin and into Italian by Gaetano Cipolla. Ms. Kleefeld’s poetry and paintings are inspirational. The book was sent to all members in good standing, and will be sent to all new members as long as copies are available.

ISBN 978-1-939693-20-4, 90 pages, $20.00

BITTER TRADES explores new territory in the rich landscape of memoirs of immigration and displacement. With a cool but passionate eye, Giovanna Miceli-Jeffries welcomes into the harsh terrain of her native Sicily, devastated after the War, impoverished and caught between the ancient and the modern. Without sentimentality or false nostalgia, she welcomes us into the complex and passionate lives of the people among whom she must learn and unlearn what it is to be a woman. A beguiling and utterly original volume.

ISBN 978-1939693-21-1. 290 pages, $18.00

107. Sotto specie umana, by Mario Luzi, translated into English by Luigi Bonaffini.

“Luzi tends towards a language that is light and fluid, free of superfluous rhetoric, able to unify the diverse voices of the cosmos. He achieves a natural elegance by focusing on the immediate present, the joys and sorrows of existence, the emptiness and fullness of being, the seasons, the hours of the day and the endlessly varied phenomenon of light.”(Barbara Carle)

ISBN 978-1-939693-24-2, 218 pages, $18.00

This is the Italian version of Learn Sicilian / Mparamu lu sicilianu. The volume has been adapted for Italian speakers. The English text has been translated into Italian and items that would be readily understood by Italians removed. The accompanying DVD which contains recordings of the readings, dialogue and answers to the exercise has been revised for Italian/Sicilian students.

ISBN 978-1-939693-25-9, 326 pages, + DVD $32.00.

This is the electronic version of Mparamu lu sicilianu. The volume comes in a DVD that contains the text of the paper edition in PDF format and the audio that accompanies it. The audio is embedded in the PDF and can be accessed simply by clicking on the sound icon on the page of the book. You will need a computer for this title.

ISBN 978-1939693-26-6, One DVD, $25.00

110. Torn Between two Worlds: Sicily and America, by Luisa Matarazzo

A story about a Sicilian Immigrant who came to America and the daughter who went back to Sicily to uncover her father’s tumultuous past.

ISBN 978-1-939693-22-8, 162 pages $16.00.

ARBA SICULA

Gaetano Cipolla
President and Editor

Ariba Sicula (Sicilian Dawn) is a Journal of Sicilian Folklore and Literature published by Arba Sicula, a non-profit Sicilian-American association. It is a unique biannual publication, entirely bilingual (Sicilian/English) that features Sicilian poetry, prose, history, art, cuisine, proverbs, language, and book reviews. The organization was founded in 1979 to study, preserve and promote the language and culture of Sicily. The organization also publishes Sicilia Parra, an informative 20-page newsletter on Sicilian and organizational matters. An annual subscription of $35.00 entitles you to a double issue of Arba Sicula and two issues of Sicilia Parra and supplements, if any are published. Senior citizens and students pay $30.00. Regular members $35.00 and Foreign subscriptions are $40.00. Make checks payable to Arba Sicula and send it PO Box 149, Mineola, NY 11501. Copies of past issues may be obtained by writing to Prof. Cipolla at the same address. The entire collection of past issues (33 volumes) is available on a CD for $50.00. Check out our web site at www.arbasicula.org

Invitation to Join Arba Sicula

Arba Sicula is a non-profit international organization that promotes the language and culture of Sicily. Based at St. John’s University, New York, Arba Sicula has nearly 2,000 members throughout the world.

Through its publications and many activities it sponsors, the organization promotes a positive image of Sicily and Sicilians. This year Arba Sicula celebrates its 34th anniversary. If you are proud of your Sicilian heritage, you will certainly be happy you joined. You can also sponsor your Sicilian friends for membership. We will send them our publications with your compliments.

Arba Sicula promotes Sicilian culture in the following ways:

- By publishing *Arba Sicula, a unique bilingual journal (Sicilian-English) that focuses on the folklore, literature and the arts of Sicily and her people all over the world. (Included in the membership);
- By publishing *Sicilia Parra, a 20-page newsletter in English of interest to Sicilians and Sicilian-Americans (Included in the membership);
- By organizing cultural events that usually include dinner, lectures, recitals and plays (free to the members and guests);
- By publishing supplements to *Arba Sicula on special topics of interest to Sicilians; such as The Fig Cake Family; What Makes a Sicilian?; Sicilian Cuisine through History and Legend etc…(Included in the membership)
- By disseminating information on Sicily and Sicilians that offers a more correct evaluation of their contributions to western civilization;
- By supporting and promoting books that portray Sicilians in a positive light;
- By organizing a 12-day tour of Sicily for its members every year at the beginning of June. In 2013 we did our 19th consecutive tour. Our 20th tour will depart around June 2 or 3, 2014.
